STUDENT GEOLOGICAL CONFERENCE

28. 5. 2026 Brno

THE DEPARTMENT OF GEOLOGICAL SCIENCES OF THE FACULTY
OF SCIENCE, MASARYK UNIVERSITY ORGANIZES
STUDENT GEOLOGICAL CONFERENCE ON 28. 5. 2026

We invite students of bachelor, masters and PhD geology programs from Czech, Slovak, Polish and other foreign universities to participate in the Student Geological Conference. This event provides an excellent platform for presenting the results of your research, whether from bachelor's, master's, or doctoral theses, as well as other professional or academic projects. Take advantage of the opportunity to deliver an oral presentation to a professional audience and share your work with fellow students and experts. Participation in the conference is free for all students, and all presentations will be held exclusively in English.

LECTURES

At the conference, participants will present their research in the form of a 10-minute lecture, followed by a short discussion. Presentations will be held according to the programme, which will be published a few days before the conference. All contributions will be evaluated by an expert committee, and the best presentations will be awarded.

ABSTRACTS

Abstracts are short summaries of the results of your research, including citations. The range of abstracts for SGK is one A4 page. The template for the Abstract proceedings is available at the conference website.
